

Sales-Onsite LLC Seeking Part-Time Professionals

We're adding new clients and need to expand our team of part-time professionals. Opportunities are available to work with clients in downtown Chicago as well as in the suburbs. Ideal profiles:

- A mom or dad who wants to transition back to their biz dev career but wants to do it on a part-time, flexible basis so they can still do the life/work balance thing. We hired a woman who has been away from a sales management career for 3 years to be with her kids but now is ready to transition back to a part-time business development role...instead of doing volunteer work for no pay.
- An independent consultant with a business development background who is looking for another "gig" to supplement his or her own consulting work. One of our top part-time professionals who has been with us for two years has his own HR staffing consulting firm and also works with two of our clients doing business development on a part-time basis.

This is not a telemarketing or appointment setting role. When I started this company over 5 years ago, I wanted this to be a very personal sales solution for our clients. This is a "real" business development job just part-time. We're looking for someone who has successfully done B2B biz dev for a corporation, marketing agency or technology firm. This position pays a very competitive hourly rate. As we grow, there is also opportunity for part-time sales management.

We only hire via referrals and offer a Visa gift card as a referral bonus to you for anyone you direct to us that we hire. Here is a link to our site so that you can see what we provide to marketing agencies and tech firms in the Chicago market: <http://www.sales-onsite.com/> And this gives you more detail on the kind of talent we're looking for and what they'll do with our clients: http://www.sales-onsite.com/sales-onsite_resources.html

If you know someone who wants to chat about this further, have them contact me directly: Kathryn Neal Odell, kodell@sales-onsite.com, Direct: 630-340-5740. Thanks!

Kathryn Neal Odell, CEO
Sales-Onsite LLC

